

FREE* TELECOMMUNICATIONS COURSE

Are you 16 – 18 years old, UNEMPLOYED and looking for training that may lead to employment?
This new and exciting course will give you hands-on experience of what it is like to be a telecoms engineer in the fastest growing area of employment in the UK!

Do you want to learn how to:

Assemble network infrastructures, install cables, diagnose and rectify faults using a range of equipment and experience the very latest technology of internal and external fibre cabling?

1 day a week!

Telecommunications Training for unemployed 16-18 years of age.

Enroll on Monday 19th September 2011

You will gain a nationally recognized telecommunications qualification that will provide you with the necessary sector skills required of a telecoms engineer or infrastructure management engineer.

You will need to have a genuine interest in the telecommunications industry and enjoy practical, outdoor work.

The course will operate from our base in Hartlepool Football Club.

GCSE A* - C grades in English, Maths and ICT are preferred but not essential.

Interested?

For more information please contact:

Donna Fraser

Phone: 01642 804000

E-mail: donna@cablecomtraining.co.uk

Web: www.cablecomtraining.com